Nixon Vote Helps To Kill Billion Dollar School Bill

New Democratic Proposal Faces Senate Action

Leaders Hope Voting On Measure Can Be Completed Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today takes up a new Democratic proposal to boost the size of the school aid bill after a dramatic night session in which Vice President Richard M. Nixon helped kill one such increase.

The newest proposal, by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), would provide 880 million dollars a year for four years in federal grants for both school construction and teacher salary aid.

The defeated plan, by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), would have provided $1,100,000,000 a year indefinitely for those purposes.

Senate leaders expressed hope that action on the school aid proposals can be completed by tonight.

Longest Season of Year

The Senate held its longest session of the year—12½ hours—on the education bill Wednesday but packed most of the excitement into the last hour.

In that period, after prolonged debate, the senators defeated Clark's proposal by a 44-44 tie vote.

Nixon could have broken this tie and put over the proposal, but did not do so presumably because he opposed it. The Eisenhower administration is heavily against any broad system of grants in this field.

But then the Democrats maneuvered quickly to get the vice president on record on the issue.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) on of Nixon's potential opponents in the 1960 presidential election, moved to reconsider the 44-44 vote in an effort to change the result.

Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) stepped in with a motion to table, and thus kill, Johnson's proposal.

Dirksen's motion at first appeared lost on an almost identical 44-44 tally, but Nixon cast his vote in favor of it, tabling reconsideration 45-44. This had the effect of killing any chance to revive Clark's amendment.

Dirksen said he would offer some time today the administration's education bill but it appeared to have little chance of success.

Under it, the federal government would undertake to pay over the next 30 years about $2,000,000,000 covering one-half of the principal and interest charges on three billion dollars worth of school construction bonds to be issued in the next five years.

School Bus, Truck Crash Fatal to Three

COVINGTON, La. (AP)—Three persons were killed and 23 injured, several critically, when a butane-gas truck collided with a school bus five miles north of here Wednesday.

Killed were the bus driver, Nina Mae Revere, 47, of Bush, and two pupils in the bus — Sylvia Jean Jenkins, 7, of Covington, and Christopher Leehans, 6, of Waldheim.

Jesse L. Shirley, 31, mobile, driver of the trailer truck, said the rig jackknifed when he applied the brakes because he "saw a pair of headlights pull out from behind the school bus into my lane." There was a downpour at the time.

The St. Tammany Parish (County) school bus had about 36 passengers aboard, on their way home from three Covington schools to the communities of Bush, Sun and Waldheim, northeast of here. The pupils ranged in age from 6 to 18.

Mrs. Robert Jenkins, mother of Sylvia Jean Jenkins, was waiting beside the highway to take her daughter from the bus. When the collision occurred Mrs. Jenkins rushed to the scene and pulled her dying daughter from the wreckage.

To Air Details of Death Struggle

Dr. Finch Denies Murdering Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The major mystery at the Finch murder trial — how Dr. R. Bernard Finch would explain his claim that he shot his wife in the back by accident — is a mystery no more. It happened, his attorney says, when a gun the two were fighting over fired by mischance as the doctor tried to throw it out of harm's way.

The wealthy surgeon, on trial with his mistress, Carole Tregoff, was expected to tell full details of the death struggle with his socialite wife when he returned to the stand today.

"Doctor, did you, on the night of July 18, 1959, murder your wife?"

Israel-Syria Frontier Quiet

Charges Leveled By Both Countries

JERUSALEM (AP) — The sensitive demilitarized zone on the Syrian-Israel frontier was reported quiet today.

The report came from Syrian observers after Israel charged Syrian gunners with firing Wednesday night despite U.N. requests that both sides withdraw their armed forces from the disputed area.

Damascus newspapers said Arab villagers in the Tawafik area, who fled artillery and tank fighting there Monday, had moved back to resume their farming.

Israel charged that Syrian troops armed with automatic rifles and mortars fired on an Israeli settlement southeast of the Sea of Galilee Wednesday night and wounded a guardsman.

There was no immediate confirmation of the report.

(Both the United Arab Republic and Israel accused each other of aggression in complaints filed with the U.N. Security Council in New York Wednesday night. Neither requested immediate council action, however.)

(The U.A.R. said Israeli troops were massing in a move to occupy the zone. Israel said "Syrian acts of aggression in the zone" were aimed at giving Syria control over the area and represented another step in a U.A.R. "policy of active belligerency towards Israel.")

A member of the Israeli-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission in Jerusalem said neither the U.A.R. nor Israel has responded to Tuesday's withdrawal requests.

State Court Upholds Conviction of Beck

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Dave Beck, former president of the Teamsters Union took another setback Wednesday when the State Supreme Court upheld his conviction on a charge of stealing $1,900 in proceeds from sale of a union-owned automobile.

Beck's attorney, Charles S. Burdell, said in Seattle he will ask the court for a rehearing.

Beck, 65, said he had been confident of a reversal on grounds he did not get a fair trial. He was convicted in King County Superior Court Dec. 14, 1957, on a grand larceny charge. He was sentenced to 15 years in the state penitentiary, but has been free on bail.

Beck has also been convicted in U.S. Dis. Court of cheating the federal government out of $240,000 in income taxes for 1950-53. He is free on bond while an appeal pending.

Ike May Ask To Supply Allies With 'A' Arms

President Studying Rider to Permit Sharing Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower probably will send Congress a special message later this session asking authority to supply some U.S. allies with atomic weapons.

A final administration decision on taking this step has yet to be made. It may be influenced by congressional reaction to the idea of sharing the weapons as well as by the impact on world opinion.

Present law permits limited sharing of some types of nuclear information, but requires that this country keep full control of nuclear weapons it produces.

Controversial Issue

Distribution of atomic weapons to nations which do not have them has long been a controversial issue. The present atomic powers are the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union. France has been reported at the point of exploding its first atomic test device.

The President told a news conference Wednesday that he had always believed "that we should not deny to our allies what the enemies, what your potential enemy already has."

"We do want allies to be treated as partners and allies, and not as junior members of a firm who are to be seen but not heard."

"So I would think that it would be better, for the interests of the United States, to make our law more legal."

Later his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, indicated the administration was actively exploring the desirability of seeking amendment to the present law.

May Ask Law Change

In addition, administration officials said privately that it is entirely probable the President will ask Congress to change the law so that in some cases at least the United States can provide its allies with the most modern atomic weapons suitable to their military requirements.

France particularly has rejected exclusive U.S. control of atomic weapons at French bases. A change in the law, official said, could strengthen both diplomatic and military ties with the allies.

Administration thoughts of seeking a change in the law developed after it was unable Tuesday to obtain support from the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy for a new interpretation of the present law. The new interpretation would have permitted some limited sharing of control over weapons.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the subcommittee, took no direct stand on Eisenhower's suggestion, but said in a statement the law would have to be changed to carry it out.

But support for the idea came from Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), senior GOP House member on the committee.

"What the President proposes is what had to come," Van Zandt said. "As conventional weapons are displaced more and more by nuclear weapons, we have to arm our allies with the new weapons if they are to play their part in the alliance."

She opened the door and told the sheriff's deputies outside: "I know who you are. I am Ruth Crum. I lived in fear and terror all these years. In a way, I am glad it's over."

With those words, 18 years of Mrs. Robbins' life started crumbling.

To her neighbors, Mrs. Robbins, 45, is the wife of accountant Franklin L. Robbins, the mother of four children and a leader in school and community affairs.

But authorities in Cook County, Ill., know her as an ex-convict,

County to Aid Leetonia Work

Flood Control Job To Start In Spring

LEETONIA — Village Council was told by Mayor Ralph Kennedy Wednesday night that Columbiana County commissioners will assume the full cost of road repairs on Madison St., in addition to replacing the bridge on that street. They will also raise the Washington St. bridge as their share of the local flood control project.

The road work is estimated at $15,000.

The entire project is costing $97,000, with federal funds amounting to $81,000.

Work is expected to start this spring.

Gas Rate to Increase

An automatic increase of one-half cent per 1,000 cubic feet of gas was announced at Council meeting by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The rate increase becomes effective March 1.

Francis Morrissey, Clyde Stratton and Robert Cushing of the Board of Public Affairs, requested salary increases for Water Department Superintendent C. Arden Guido, and his assistant Ralph Possetta. The superintendent formerly had two assistants, but one has been eliminated.

They asked that Guido's salary be increased from $350 to $415 per month, and that Possetta get a monthly pay of $390. He is presently working on an hourly basis, at $1.50 per hour.

This matter was referred to the finance committee for study. They will present their report at the Feb. 17 meeting.

Council approved the transfer of $1,421.05 from the general fund to the cemetery fund, which showed a deficit of $421.05.

Deadline Brings No Opposition

Area Delegates to Support Nixon, DiSalle

The 18th Congressional District, which includes Columbiana County, will send delegates to the Republican National Convention pledged to support Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidential nomination and a Democratic delegation backing Gov.

Michael V. DiSalle, Ohio's "favorite son" candidate.

Slates of candidates for delegate and alternate to the two party's presidential nominating conventions which were filed earlier were left without opposition when the filing deadline passed Wednesday at the Columbiana County Election Board's office.

The GOP district delegation, pledged to Nixon as first choice as president and State Auditor James A. Rhodes as second choice, includes as delegates: Mrs. Letha C. Astry of Salem, 18th District woman member of the GOP State Central Committee, and Robert J. Hocker of Steubenville, Jefferson County Republican chairman.

Candidates for alternate are Tom Richards of Carrollton, Carroll County prosecuting attorney, and Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz, Harrison County GOP chairwoman.

The district slate for the Democratic National Convention includes: Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, 18th District congressman, and Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, for delegates, and Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman, and Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steu-

Jet Tanker Crash Kills 6 Persons

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP) — A fuel-laden jet tanker plane spun out of control on takeoff from Walker Air Force Base Wednesday. It crashed into two sister ships, some parked cars and a hangar, killing six men.

Two other men were missing. The Air Force planned to sift the ashes of the hangar today in another search for bodies.

Five of the dead were aboard the four-engine KC135. They were S. Sgt. George W. Short, Bell Gardens, Calif.; 1st Lt. James J. Muller, Woodbury, N.J.; Maj. James F. Kelleher, Geneva, N.Y.; Maj. James W. McCormick, Homer City, Pa.; and Maj. William L. Burke, 40, of Flint, Mich., the instructor-pilot.

Identities of the sixth dead man, and the two missing men, were withheld until next of kin are notified.

Flames which engulfed the three 4½ million dollar tankers were fed by tons of jet fuel, triggered by exploding magnesium flares.

Last-Minute Rush Assures Lively Primary

Commissioner, State Representative Jobs Draw 28 Aspirants

A rush of last-minute filings before the deadline Wednesday at 4 p.m. helped produce the biggest fields in years for both the Republican and Democratic nominations for state representative and county commissioner posts in the May 3 primaries.

Republicans have a field of 9 seeking two nominations for commissioner and 5 candidates for a pair of nominations for state representative. Democrats have an 8-way race for the 2 commissioner nominations and 6 bidding for the state representative posts.

The Democrats have two more wide-open races — a 5-man field for sheriff and a 4-way contest for county recorder.

12 County Jobs at Stake

The two parties will nominate for a total of 12 county posts — selecting candidates who will oppose each other in the November general election.

Other offices at stake are: Probate judge, clerk of courts, prosecuting attorney, treasurer, engineer and coroner.

When the deadline arrived, the County Election Board listed 70 candidates from both parties for district and county offices. Democrats filed 11 candidates for district offices and 27 for county posts. The GOP lists 9 candidates for district posts and 23 for county offices.

In addition, the board listed a total of 291 candidates from both parties for central committee posts. One of the so-called "pre-cinct committeemen" is elected for each party in each of the 132 precincts. The board listed 160 Democratic candidates and 131 Republicans.

Nine candidates filed in the 11th hour rush before the deadline yesterday, including 3 new aspirants for commissioner on the GOP slate, 2 additional Democratic candidates for commissioner and a sixth aspirant for the Democratic nomination for state representative.

Last-Minute Candidates

The last-minute candidates are:

William Y. Orr, a former East Liverpool councilman; Clarence L. Robinson, 308 W. Washington St., Lisbon, a former commissioner, and Howard L. Ketchum of Wayne Township, all for the Republican nomination for commissioner.

Fred R. Deldrick of Wayne Township and John Varsho of Lisbon RD 3, operator of the Vi-Jon Bar in East Liverpool, for the Democratic nomination for commissioner.

John H. Todd, former Lisbon mayor, for the Democratic nomination for state representative.

Richard O. Wilson, East Liverpool printer, for the GOP nomination for clerk of courts.

Richard P. Winters, business representative of Retail Clerks Local 133 at East Liverpool for the Democratic nomination for county recorder.

Joseph P. McGurran of Salem, for the Democratic nomination for sheriff.

Others in the GOP commissioner's race are: Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, the incumbent; Jonathan C. Mason of East Liverpool, an auctioneer and a former state senator; Hugh McPherson of North Georgetown, operator of a general store; Lorain H. Foulks of Calcutta, a farmer and St. Clair Township trustee; Galen H. Greenstein of Salem RD 3, who formerly served 8 years as commissioner, and Ford L. Mc-

Filing Deadline Produces Few Surprises

Ohioans to Vote on 'Passel' of Candidates in May

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Now Ohio knows who its political candidates are for the May 3 primary elections—and there is a passel of them, including two sets of delegates warring over who will have the honor of casting votes for U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy for the presidential nomination.

The filing deadline was Wednesday. It produced few surprises aside from the strength of the delegate slate presented by Cuyahoga County Democratic Chairman Ray T. Miller Sr. in opposition to the favorite-son slate behind Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Filing deadline day saw 14 candidates lined up for the bobtailed statewide election scheduled this year. It also saw 76 candidates running for 46 nominations for 23 Ohio congressional posts. Because of three retirements and one death, Ohio is certain to have four new faces in its delegation to the next Congress.

Fight Blossomed Recently

The DiSalle-Miller fight for control of the Democratic Party in Ohio blossomed only recently, but it's in full flower as of today.

Miller pumped for Kennedy last fall as a presidential candidate while DiSalle kept his silence. But, on Jan. 6, DiSalle offered himself as Ohio's favorite son candidate pledged to Kennedy — and Kennedy immediately accepted DiSalle as spokesman for Ohio Democrats.

Miffed, Miller demanded Cuyahoga County get the lion's share of the at-large delegates to the convention opening July 11 at Los Angeles. DiSalle ignored the demand. Miller countered with a threat to enter a delegate slate pledged all-out to Kennedy.

And that's the way it turned out. If Miller is able to elect his slate nominally pledged to Cuyahoga County Engineer Albert S. Porter for president, he will practically split even with DiSalle in the struggle for the Ohio delegation control.

Miller entered delegate candidates in 16 of Ohio's 23 congressional districts—one in some and two in others. He also entered 14 at-large delegates who would have one-half vote each.

Entered Full Slate

DiSalle forces entered a full slate—two candidates in each of the congressional districts and 36 at-large delegate candidates. Miller candidates, if Kennedy fails, would let Kennedy dictate their future course. DiSalle candidates, instead would caucus over the problem of what to do then.

Only boat-rocker on the otherwise serene Republican sea as the GOP heads toward a practically uncontested nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president was former Ohio U. S. Sen. George H. Bender.

Shunned by the regular Republican organization, Bender filed as a delegate candidate pledged to himself.

"I'll be campaigning for the next 90 days," Bender told newsmen.

There were various and sundry other "maverick" delegate candidates pledged to various and sundry people. None, however, figured to cut much ice in the May 3 delegate election.

Almost No Surprises

On the state scene, there were almost no surprises as four Democrats and the incumbent Republican filed for a two-year term for state auditor and one Democrat and five Republicans sought an unexpired Ohio Supreme Court term.

The brief statewide ticket this year results from Ohio voters' recent approval of a constitutional amendment setting four-year terms for elective state officials.

That amendment creates the unusual situation of the state auditor, normally a four-year man, running for a two-year term. The amendment specified the single two-year term for that office so that in 1962 all state officials might run for four-year terms at the same time.

James A. Rhodes, Republican state auditor for the last eight years, is the lone GOP entry in the auditor race and is assured nomination.

The four Democratic aspirants for the post are John Christopher Jr. of Cleveland; James D. Ferguson of Columbus, son of State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson who served as state auditor for 16 years; Charles H. Hubbell of Cleveland, perennially unsuccessful office seeker, and Belmont County Auditor W. T. McCort of St. Clairsville.

Serving By Appointment

John Weld Peck of Glendale, a Cincinnati suburb, is now serving on the Supreme Court by appointment as Judge Stewart's temporary successor. He is unopposed for the Democratic nomination to the court seat.

Five Republicans are contending for the nomination. They include former Gov. C. William O'Neill, now attempting a political comeback; Willard D. Campbell, former Guernsey County prosecutor and judge; Mrs. Elizabeth Bell Winter, wife of Ralph Winter, former state senator and Utilities Commission member; Paul W. Brown, Youngstown attorney, and Richard Murray Stewart, Akron attorney.

Two other Supreme Court spots have no contests for party nominations.

Democratic Judge James F. Bel of London will face Republican Earl R. Hoover of Shaker Heights in the Nov. 8 election.

Republican Judge Kingsley A. Taft, formerly of Cleveland now of Columbus, will have Democrat Joseph H. Ellison of Mansfield as his November opponent.

Also to be elected next fall are all members of the Ohio House. They serve two-year terms. Slightly more than half of the state senators also must be elected. The senators now are on a four-year term basis.

Battles In Prospect

Fights for the nominations and eventual election were in prospect in southern Ohio's 6th Congressional District where Democratic Rep. James G. Polk died, in east-central Ohio's 15th District where Republican Rep. John Henderson is retiring, in Cincinnati's 2nd District where Republican Rep. William Hess is quitting, and in northwestern Ohio's 13th District where Republican Rep. A. D. Baumhart Jr. is stepping down.

But, in addition to these natural fights for a foothold in Congress, some surprising contests developed in several districts.

In Toledo's 9th District, the House seat of Democrat Thomas Ludlow Ashley was challenged by Frank Rossler of Toledo, another Democrat.

In the normally Democratic 19th District, veteran Congressman Michael J. Kirwan is opposed by Democrat Ross Porchiro, also of Youngstown.

Also running into opposition inside their own parties were Democratic Reps. Michael A. Feighan and Charles A. Vanik, both of Cleveland. There was no immediate indication of how serious the opposition to the two Cleveland Democrats might be.

Feighan's opposition is John P. Morheva of Parma.

Elmer S. Dula of Cleveland is Vanik's challenger.

There is no primary opposition for the party candidates who seek to succeed Hess in the 2nd District. Neither Mayor H. A. Sand, Reading, Democrat, nor Mayor Donald D. Clancy, Queen City Republican, has a contest for the nomination.

Five Democrats and three Republicans, however, are seeking the congressional nominations in the 6th District as they vie to follow the late Rep. Polk to Congress.

The Democratic lineup: Robert C. Armentrout of Waverly; Clyde R. Brown of Milford; Truman Morris of Chillicothe; Frank E. Smith of Portsmouth and James E. Shoup Jr. of Chillicothe.

Republican candidates: William H. Harsha Jr. of Portsmouth, S. A. Ringer of Leesburg and Mack Sauer of Hillsboro.

There also is a short-term congressional term to be decided in the 6th district.

In the 13th District, two Demo-

Income Tax Due On SUB Payments

CLEVELAND (AP)—Taxpayers who last year received supplemental unemployment benefits are required to list those payments in federal tax returns, says the district director of internal revenue.

The SUB payments are considered income, although employers have not been including SUB figures on the W-2 forms used to notify employees of wages and amounts withheld, said Melvin J. Burton, district director.

Burton explained that the SUB payments are not subject to withholding, but employers report the payments to the Internal Revenue Service on a separate form. Taxpayers' forms will be checked against employer forms to determine whether SUB payments have been included in the return.

Payments received from the State Unemployment Compensation Bureau are not subject to federal tax.

Washroom Study

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the best places to study human nature is in an office washroom.

The white-collar worker at his desk wears a mask. He is on guard. You can't tell what kind of a person he is.

But in the washroom he quits acting. He shows his true personality, and the real man comes through. He feels free there to be himself.

Look around you in your own office washroom. You are bound to recognize some familiar characters.

1. The crusader. He complains the grade of washroom soap is ruining his skin and is eternally circulating a petition demanding that the company put in linen instead of paper towels.

2. The fastidious soul. "Why do people insist on throwing their cigar butts on the floor here?" he asks, shuddering. "They don't do it at home do they? Then why here? Isn't this their home away from home?"

3. The thrifty junior executive. He is so anxious to make a name for himself by saving the company money that he carefully tears off only half a paper towel to dry his dripping face. The result is he has chapped cheeks all winter.

4. The angry wretel. "If this chincy outfit won't pay me what I'm worth, I'll get even with 'em some other way," he growls, boldly ripping off three paper towels when one will do.

5. The scholar. He never comes to the washroom without at least two newspapers and a copy of Reader's Digest.

6. The master of ceremonies. This guy is a frustrated Grover Whalen. He feels it his duty to give everyone who wanders into the washroom a cheerful greeting and a friendly farewell.

7. The ambusher. He lies in wait and as soon as you enter, he sidles over next to your wash basin and whispers, "By the way, can you lend me 10 bucks until payday?"

8. The office snitch. He creeps around listening to everyone's conversation, and if he hears anything derogatory about the company he gallops out to tell the boss. This male mata hari never realizes that the boss, as well as everybody else, despises him.

9. The secret addict. This poor wretch has publicly proclaimed he has given up the tobacco habit. But every 15 minutes he sneaks into the washroom to grab a few stolen puffs.

10. The hypochondriac. To him the washroom is both clinic and drugstore. He plods in every hour on the hour to gargle, put drops in his eyes, take a vitamin capsule, drink something to quiet his nonexistent ulcer, or simply stare at his tongue in the mirror.

11. The compulsive washer. He has made a mistake on the job but hasn't been caught. Every few minutes he trots in and scrubs his hand, hoping thereby to wash his guilt away before his error is found out.

12. The juvenile Narcissus. The teen-age office boy is so proud of his duck-tail haircut, garnished with olive oil, that he spends hours combing his locks as he admires them in the washroom mirror. This drives the bald-headed older employees crazy.

Last but not least, of course, is the boss himself. He stomps in, looks bleakly around at the crowd of washroom characters, and remarks dryly: "What's going on in here anyway—a convention?"

Three seconds later the boss has the place to himself.

HOLLOWAY'S

COLUMBIANA

OHIO

Another Lake to River Highway

Ohioans, it appears, are going to get competition from Western Pennsylvania in the construction of a lake-to-river highway.

Ohio has planned its own riverlake road, from Ashtabula to East Liverpool, but Pennsylvania isn't napping. Ten counties in the western portion of the neighboring state have organized to exert every effort to get a super highway built between Erie, Pa., and the Ohio river.

The Erie-Pittsburgh-West Virginia Freeway Association, formed by the western Pennsylvania counties, is demanding prompt and favorable action from the Senate Highway Commission in Harrisburg.

The objective: To provide better access to that state's only St. Lawrence Seaway port —Erie—and offer a highway system that will be advantageous to business and industry on the other side of the state line.

Which is all the more reason why Ohio should strive to get its Lake Erie to Ohio River highway constructed as soon as possible.

Columbiana and Mahoning County business interests stand to benefit greatly from the Ohio freeway when it is built. As outlined originally by engineering consultants, the road would slice through Columbiana County between the villages of Washingtonville and Columbiana.

Local and county officials need to take more than a passive interest in urging its completion at an early date.

Eventually, But Not Quite Yet

If we get the drift of Gov. DiSalle's enthusiasm about a highly trained squad of liquor agents, he thinks half as many would be more than twice as good if they were top-flight in their field.

That's why the governor would like to train them the way FBI agents are trained and pay them enough to make them keen about their jobs. That would be only the beginning.

These agents then would range back and forth over the state like Texas Rangers, or perhaps Northwest Mounted Police. It would be their job to spot local violations of law in connection with the sale of alcoholic beverages and make such information available to local police chiefs, sheriffs and prosecutors. They would be kind of an Ohio FBI.

And at this point we pause to repeat what cannot be repeated too often: There is no such thing as undetected organized vice. All persistent violations of law are known to local enforcement agents. If nothing is done, one of two things must be true.

Either the local law enforcers are not smart enough to know how to get evidence, or someone is "on the take" and isn't interested in getting evidence.

In either event, the hot-shot squad of liquor agents would help see to it that the law was enforced. The specials would help to get evidence. They would help to keep the local authorities on their toes.

Because much vice occurs in one connection or another with some form of liquor traffic, Ohio would end up with much less gambling and other forms of vice.

Gov. DiSalle says he sees no need for a state police force, though he does see merit in a highly trained squad of liquor enforcement agents whose efforts would put a burr under the tails of local law enforcement. It is not entirely clear to us why the same claim could not be made for the same thing under another name.

Former Gov. O'Neill thought the state needed a police force. So did former Gov. Lausche. Many Ohioans who are not aware of the limitations on the State Highway Patrol think it already has one, but it doesn't.

We think it will have one eventually and that every time a governor talks about better ways to enforce statewide laws he is putting in a word in behalf of the idea, even though he claims the opposite.

Saving the Spirit and the Substance

Frenchmen are overjoyed that the spirit of France has been saved from the threat of extinction by the sordid disenchantment of Algeria.

Charles de Gaulle again has served the high destiny that has led him through his half-mystic career as France's perennial man of the hour. Having formerly saved France for Algeria, he now has saved France for France against the opposition of Algeria.

Frenchmen must be wondering who will follow this unique soldier-politician who singlehandedly can rally them to their patriotic duty. When will history have time to carve another man out of fire and granite and instill in him the passion and fervor to make millions follow his leadership?

And De Gaulle, having proved that he can save the spirit of France—how will this inspired man now go about the greater task of saving the substance of France?

He has risked his ultimate power of rule by decree on what may not have been the ultimate crisis. He has "shot his wad" without having brought down the enemy that cannot be left alive—opposition inside metropolitan France.

The Algerian crisis may not have been worth the price of government by decree, because now there is nothing in reserve.

Yet, Frenchmen are overjoyed, and that is worth a great deal. France's allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are overjoyed, and that might be the difference between success and failure in the Western Allies' master plan for offsetting the potential military striking power of the Soviet Union.

President De Gaulle is obviously a man who will stand high in history. He has saved the spirit of France. The question is whether he also can save the Fifth Republic.

Street Load Limits

There's logic to Mayor Dean Cranmer's suggestion that Council enact an ordinance to establish weight limits on local streets.

With a law on the statute books, the city could retain all of the fines levied against truckers who seemingly persist in driving overloaded vehicles. At present, the city must share the fines with the state.

The city scales, installed a number of years ago, have paid for themselves over and over, through their use by state patrolmen in conducting truck stops.

Road limits also would help to keep big trucks on the main thoroughfares and off side streets which were not built for the heavier vehicles.

Once Over

The White House may be for peace but the Justice Department is not. After 11 years of war with Du Pont it won't even respect a flag of truce. The public is beginning to feel the same sympathy for the company it has felt for Eliza in the ice fields, Nurse Cavell and Little Red Riding Hood's grandmother.

The war seemed settled by a decision last year which gave one of the biggest links in American economic setup a chance to continue life unharmed but the attorney general seems still bent on unconditional surrender. Most folks have lost track of what it's all about but have been given the impression by Washington that one of the oldest and best run corporations in the world was a delegate to the Apalachin convention, knows where Judge Crater is, caused the Chicago fire, directed the Brinks robbery and burned down the orphan asylum.

The money Du Pont and General Motors have spent for lawyers to defend themselves from the government would balance the budget, float the spaceship program and pay for a fleet of atomic subs.

When the suit began it included Du Pont babies who have become teen-agers with gray hair. Quite a few older executives have died. But eager beavers in the Justice Department keep marching on.

You could have knocked Du Pont heads over with a nylon stocking when they got word the 1959 decision about disposition of GM stock would be appealed. They had believed the government believed in the old adage, "If you have had your foot on a man's neck

Whether the sun is shining, or is hidden by an overcast sky, isn't too important. The weeks on the calendar still must go by one by one until spring officially arrives.

Du Pont accepted the decision forbidding directors on the GM board, more purchases of GM stock and continuance of former sales policies. But the government wants blood.

The company has had to build on a couple of wings to house legal papers; and two recreation camps for its lawyers. It is reported at work on a paint improvement that will preserve the shine and keep harassed executives looking as good as new.

Tick, Tock. . .

By WARD CANNEL

Comes now the anniversary of a needless little invention which still grips the world in a dreadful headache.

For it is now 300 years since some long-forgotten smart-aleck clock maker invented the minute hand—opening the sluice gates of civilization for the inevitable invention of the timetable, the ulcer and a legion of billion-dollar industries.

Now, as short a time ago as 1660, historians say, most people were still telling time as they had since time was invented: sun-up, sun-down, rain, snow and thaw. A day or two was accurate enough for most arrivals and departures. And a clock no more than two hours off was considered a monument of precision.

Then came the minute hand. Within a century everybody in civilization was counting minutes. Another century and precision machines were making precision watches.

IT WAS, OF COURSE, too much precision. By 1860, the strain on the U.S. alone was more than any nation could stand. Every solid citizen could tick off the average 1,443.5 minutes it takes the earth to go from sunrise to sunrise. However:

The sun rises five minutes earlier in New York than in Philadelphia because Philadelphia is farther west.

And the sun rises five minutes earlier in Philadelphia than in Baltimore because Baltimore is farther west.

And that's the way it was, going west—more than 300 local time zones in the U.S.

To remedy this complication, the railroads drew up their own time-tables. A different table for each line. And, moreover, a different one for each division. That added another 100 time zones.

By 1872, the railroads couldn't stand it any longer and began to consider a new plan, namely four time zones for the entire nation. But as time changes take time (11 years), the plan was not put into effect until 1883.

It was a wonderful day. All the railroad men with their minute-hand watches moved them forward or backward—some as much as 30 minutes—to fit the new zones. It is still remembered by old men with watches as "the day of the two noons."

Anyway, the following year the nation followed the railroads and adopted the four time zones so that everybody, everywhere would know what minute it was forever—except for revisions which are made every 10 years.

IN THE MEANTIME, more precise measurement of the minute was being invented all over the place. In Greenwich, England, they were calculating the earth's movement in relation to the sun. In Paris, France, they were doing it by the stars.

Happily, the two times were not the same (a star-day is about four minutes shorter than a sun-day). And just to keep the pot boiling, other people were keeping Daylight Saving Time, Military Time and Mean Solar Time.

But it's all child's play, now that the space age is here. Bell Laboratories tell me that it's "an experimentally verified fact that clocks appear to run more slowly on swiftly moving objects." The example they like to use is a set of twins. One stays on earth. The other travels to the stars at almost the speed of light. And when he gets back, his watch will have ticked off one year. But his earth-brother's watch will have ticked off 10 years.

This is further complicated by the fact, readily available from clock makers, that no clock has been invented—from the sundial to the atom—which tells the same time as any other clock.

De Gaulle's Mistake

By DAVID LAWRENCE

France's Real Problem Is Red Organization

France suspends certain constitutional guarantees and adopts quasi-totalitarian rule — and the free world applauds. This strange paradox emphasizes how easy it is sometimes to accept the philosophy that the end justifies the means. Did President de Gaulle really have to ask for rule by decree? He needed far-reaching authority, of course, to deal with the rebellion in Algeria but why was it necessary to abandon so much of the constitutional system inside France itself?

The answer is that the crisis is deeper than the issues raised by the Algerian insurrection. Premier Debre anticipated criticism and said on Tuesday in the formal statement of policy to the Parliament: "We do not have enough power to subdue attempts at subversion." The fact is that Gen. de Gaulle has not dealt effectively with internal subversion.

The Communists, for instance, have managed for several years now to sabotage parliamentary government in France.

Instead of outlawing the Communist party and ferreting out the subversives who infest the executive departments, the De Gaulle regime has shown signs of adopting unwittingly some of the programs that fit in with Communist objectives.

His forced resignation recently of former Premier Pinay from the cabinet post of Finance Minister alarmed the Conservatives.

He objected to some of the proposals which, indeed, are an indication of the kind of France Gen. de Gaulle is planning to build now that he has semi-dictatorial powers.

ONE PROPOSAL would permit the trade unions to have one-fourth of the seats on a board of directors in an association, set up by the government, composed of corporations and labor unions.

Since the Communist-controlled unions have strength enough to get six of the 10 seats to be occupied by labor, Mr. Pinay characterized the plan as the "Sovietization" of French industry.

Another program is designed to subsidize ailing industries, including coal mines, shipyards and aircraft companies, by government purchase of large amounts of their stock.

Mr. Pinay described this as "a national society for lame duck enterprises" that eventually would make the government a part-owner of industry.

A third program would place in a state-owned company, the ownership of the Sahara oil output. This means pressure on foreign distributors of fuel to sell Sahara oil, instead of Mideastern oil, inside France.

Another program is designed to subsidize ailing industries, including coal mines, shipyards and aircraft companies, by government purchase of large amounts of their stock.

NEW YORK (AP) — Investors seem to be looking at every market today except the stock market. It has finished out an unhappy month with the price averages back to their low point of last October.

Small investors are showing up in numbers for the first time at the U.S. Treasury bill auctions. They are subscribing to other marketable Treasury securities. They are taking more interest in corporate debt offerings.

Brokers are divided as to whether the investor is wary of common stocks after the long price rise that cut yields (percentage of income return) or whether he is becoming more sophisticated and learning about other forms of investing for the first time.

The stock market's statistical story in January was a sad one. The Associated Press price index of 60 stocks started the month at 231 and ended at 216 for a loss of 15 points.

The tumble in the Dow Jones industrial stock index was even more arresting since it is figured on a higher numerical level. This index started January at a record 686 and ended at 622 for a tumble of 64 points.

Such rallies as January provided were mild and short lived. Bond salesmen, on the other hand, seem to have found customers easily. Corporate bond offerings found a fairly ready market. Whenever the Treasury invited individuals (small investors as contrasted to big financial institutions the usual bond buyers) to buy government securities the response was hearty.

From these marketable U.S. securities of one to five year maturities, individuals of late have branched out into the 91-day Treasury bill auctions.

Each Monday the Treasury asks for bids for around one billion dollars of these bills. They pay no interest, but are sold below par as the money market conditions dictates. The difference between what you pay for them and the par value at which you redeem them three months later is your yield. The bids are received at a special Federal Reserve Bank window.

How much of the public's interest in high yielding government securities is at the expense of the stock market is debatable. But banks and savings and loan associations have noted a jump in withdrawals from savings accounts whenever the Treasury has invited individuals to buy securities at yields of around 5 per cent.

Some brokers think the change in investing mood will be short lived. They expect stock prices to rally. And the public usually returns to the stock market when prices are rising.

They also count on the expected increase this year in personal income totals to provide the investing money which stocks could attract.

Looking Backward

5 YEARS AGO — Mrs. Margaret Horch, office manager at the Central Clinic, spoke at the Tuesday meeting of the Quota Club.

10 YEARS AGO — Joyce Cosgrove was complimented with a surprise birthday party Thursday by her mother, Mrs. John Cosgrove.

25 YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Snipes and Miss Mary Ruth Allen of Salem attended the Liedertafel concert Sunday in Akron.

40 YEARS AGO — Fred Campbell has entered Ohio State University.

Other state-owned projects are expected now that Mr. Pinay has left the cabinet and President de Gaulle has a free hand to bring about more and more nationalization of industries.

BUSINESS CONFIDENCE naturally is impaired and the political turbulence is likely to become more, rather than less, extensive. The conservatives of the Independent party — the second biggest in the assembly — have broken with the De Gaulle government.

On the "left," the Socialists, led by former Premier Mollet, broke with the De Gaulle government more than a year ago on economic policy.

In the "center," the Radical party has withdrawn its support. So Gen. de Gaulle is not sure from one day to the other that he can get a majority in the French National Assembly.

While he temporarily gains power to deal with Algerian insurrectionists, it is only a question of time before the political parties combine against him.

The challenge to the free-enterprise system and the marked tendency to go in the direction of socialism will cause plenty of friction in the parliament.

It has been assumed, moreover, that Gen. de Gaulle would end the Algerian trouble, which is costing France two billion dollars a year and now has gone on for six years.

To grant "self-determination" isn't the final answer. The French settlers have been repeatedly attacked by the Moslems. In one month 20 European farmers in Algeria have been killed.

The army has been fighting the guerrillas and naturally sympathizes with the French settlers, who don't want to see negotiations carried on with the "Moslem cutthroats," as they are called.

FOR GEN. DE GAULLE to take the side of the Moslems against the French settlers may for the time being be defended as a step toward "pacification" and as a means of ending insurrection by French arms against the state but it will not lead to internal peace.

The Communist infiltrators in Algeria, who are helped by arms from neighboring countries in Africa, will see that the disturbance continues.

The real adversary in France is the enemy from within — the Communists. This infiltration has broken down the French Parliament and now is paralyzing French investments in Algeria, even as socialistic measures are put forward in Paris that weaken the economy of France itself.

Absolutism is not the simple answer to Gen. de Gaulle's problems. What is needed is a keener perception of the real influences that have brought France to grasp at totalitarian measures to save itself from political and economic disintegration.

Bad Month for Stocks

Seekins, 60, was killed when sheriff's deputies and a state highway patrolman tried with tear gas, smoke bombs, verbal persuasion and other means to take him into custody. Neighbors had reported seeing Seekins threaten two persons with a shotgun and force them to lie face down in the snow. A hail of bullets felled Seekins.

It Costs to Keep Up With Joneses

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

There is little doubt that as you look about you've decided the neighbors are living it up just a bit faster than you. And if you conform to that great old American adage of keeping up with the Joneses, you're doing something about it.

That is the reason I think you might be interested in a rundown of how you are spending your money. What portion of total spending goes for food, shelter and clothing, for services and recreation? Have there been any major shifts in recent years? For fun, let's find out if we are doing it differently than in that other boom year, 1929!

The figures that tell this story are neatly tabulated in the just-issued 1960 Economic Almanac, a publication of the National Industrial Conference Board. The most recent year reported is 1958, and so I've elected comparisons with five years earlier as well as with that magical year of '29.

ITEM ONE: Total services. The big cry has been that in this area we've suffered the deepest bite out of our pocketbooks because the cost of services in recent years has gained more rapidly than the price tags on basic commodities. In 1958, 38.7 per cent of our personal expenditures went for services in contrast to 35.2 per cent in 1954 and 40.6 per cent in '29. But the 1958 bill was 113.4 billion dollars against 81.8 billion five years earlier, and but 32.1 billion in 1929.

ITEM TWO: Housing. To this we allocated 13 per cent of disposable income in 1958 spending 38 billion dollars in contrast to allocating 12.1 per cent in 1954, and spending of 29.1 billion.

But housing still takes a smaller bite out of our income than it did in 1929, when 14.5 per cent of personal expenditures went to meet a bill of 11.4 billion dollars.

ITEM THREE: Food and tobacco. In 1958, 28.3 per cent of our expenditures or 83 billion dollars kept us fed and blowing smoke. Five years earlier 30 per cent of our spending went to pay for food bills that totalled 71.4 billion.

Though the footman might have served the pheasant in 1929, it took but 26.9 per cent of a person's income and 11.4 billion nationally to eat and smoke.

ITEM FOUR: Clothing, accessories and jewelry. Evidently we are becoming less ornate, for 10.7 per cent of our expenditure or 31.5 billion dollars went for fine feathers in 1958 in contrast to 11.2 per cent or 26.7 billion five years earlier. In 1929 our spending in this area almost matched the food bill, was 11.2 billion and captured 14.2 per cent of total personal consumption expenditures.

ITEM FIVE: Recreation. Despite all that has been said about the booming leisure market, here is how this looks statistically: In 1958, expenditures of 17 billion dollars captured 5.8 per cent of our spending versus 12.9 billion and 5.5 per cent in 1954 and 4.3 billion and 5.5 per cent in 1929. (I'll wager the explanation for this is that a much smaller percentage of our population had the wherewithal for play in 1929, while now we've learned that recreation is what the doctor prescribes.)

ITEM SIX: Medical care (and death expenses). These are taking 6.1 per cent of our total spending against 5.5 per cent in 1954 and 4.5 per cent in '29. But, watch the bill grow! Personal consumption expenditures for this item reached 17.8 billion dollars in 1958, 4.8 billion more than five years earlier and 13.3 billion more than in 1929.

Now figure what percentage of your total spending goes for services, housing, food, clothing, recreation and medical care. Keeping up with the Joneses? I'll bet that you are!

Blonde Teen-Ager Vows to Wait for Negro Sweetheart

ALFRED, N.Y. (AP) — A pretty blonde teen-ager who vowed to wait for her Negro sweetheart was back home with her parents in this college community today.

Dorothy Lebohner, 18, was returned from New York City Wednesday night by police after a brief rendezvous with her boy friend.

Officers found Dorothy and Warren Sutton, 21, of Chester, Pa., Tuesday night holding hands as they watched a movie, "Tides of Passion," in a 42nd street theater in New York.

A warrant charging her as a wayward girl was waiting her arrival. Behind closed doors, she responded to the charge as a youthful offender and was turned over to her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Edward K. Lebohner.

"I'm going to marry him," the girl said before she left New York. "They may tear us apart today but they will not stop us. We can wait for our day."

Sutton, who met Dorothy last summer while waiting on tables in the Alfred University dormitory, also pledged his love despite parental opposition to the match.

"I can wait," he said. "I love her more than anything in life, and I'll slave to make her happy."

Sutton, a lanky 6-foot-2 basketball player, left the University early this season. He charged that Dorothy's father, who is the university's treasurer, and other officials exerted pressure to make him quit school. They said the athlete left of his own accord after being involved in a fight during a game.

Dorothy slipped out of a mid-town hotel early Tuesday while en route to Florida with her parents. The trip was planned to help her forget Sutton.

She met Sutton, and they spent the day walking, riding the subway, watching movies and discussing their problem.

Lebohner said he felt "mixed marriages are almost impossible." Sutton's mother Mildred said: "I don't like the idea at all. His father and I told him we didn't approve. Mixed marriages just don't work."

APPEAL IS REJECTED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The appeal of Thomas Womack from his second-degree murder conviction in the death of a Lima State Hospital employee was rejected Wednesday by the Ohio Supreme Court. The employee, Glenn Farmer, was slain in a 1955 escape attempt by Womack, who was in the hospital for observation.

In another case, the high court ruled unanimously against Clyde Simmons in his habeas corpus action to obtain release from Ohio Penitentiary. He claimed a Hocking County charge of sodomy in 1959 was ambiguous.

Russia Repeats Stand on War Aid Payments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union said today it is ready at any time to resume talks on settlement of its lend-lease debt "with simultaneous normalization of economic relations" with the United States.

This was a reiteration of the Soviet stand that broke down negotiations to clean up its World War II debt to this country.

Soviet-American lend-lease talks collapsed eight days ago when American officials refused to consider the Soviet demand that a big loan and a trade agreement be tied to a settlement.

In a statement, the Soviet Embassy said today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev had pointed out in his talks with President Eisenhower at Camp David, Md., last fall "that the substance of the question (of a lend-lease settlement) lies in the removal by the United States of the discriminatory restrictions on trade with the U.S.S.R. and in the permission to the American businessmen to trade unrestrictedly with the Soviet Union."

The embassy statement indirectly accused the United States of offering Britain and other allies better terms, including a loan, than have been offered the Soviet Union to settle lend-lease accounts.

During World War II, the United States sent about 11 billion dollars worth of goods to the Soviet Union.

It has sought repayment only for materials such as factory machinery—which had a useful civilian purpose in peacetime.

The United States demanded 800 million dollars after the war to close the lend-lease books.

The Soviets countered with an offer of 300 million.

In the talks that collapsed Jan. 27, the Soviets never repeated this offer. Soviet negotiators demanded that any settlement simultaneously cover: A long-term credit at acceptable interest rates and a trade agreement, giving Soviet products the benefit of the same lower tariff rates other countries enjoy on the American market. These tariffs were raised for Russia in 1951 after the Korean War.

Three Persons Hurt As Tornado Strikes

THIBODAUX, La. (AP)—Three persons were injured, one critically, when a tornado, hidden in a heavy downpour, struck a plantation area and demolished nine laborers' cottages.

Five-year-old Barbara Benoit received internal injuries when the family dwelling was wrecked Wednesday. Her mother, 32, who was cooking supper at the time the tornado hit, had a back injury, and her father, Newman Benoit, 38, was hospitalized with a fractured collar bone.

A half dozen other persons were treated for minor injuries.

Richard Plater Jr., civil defense director, said the tornado, which appeared to be rotating, hit during a heavy rain.

In its path, 300 to 400 feet wide and a mile long, the farm cottages "just sort of exploded," Plater said.

Plater estimated the damage to farm dwellings at about $75,000.

Burglars Get $97 At Shaffer Garage

Burglars netted $97.90 in a break-in at the Bud Shaffer Ford Agency garage on the Ellsworth Road last night.

According to Mr. Shaffer, entry was gained to the back shop by prying open a side window. He said the thieves then went into the office where they stole the petty cash box from a filing cabinet. He said the cabinet is usually locked.

The money was in bills up to $20 denomination and small change. Shaffer said the company never keeps any more than the petty cash box in the building when the firm is not open for business.

The Columbiana County Sheriff's office is investigating.

Israel

An Israeli spokesman Wednesday denied the existence of any Israeli forces in the zone, where fighting broke out last Friday.

The flareup in shooting was reported by the Israeli army a few hours after the U.A.R. 1st (Syrian) army announced a skirmish with Israeli patrols during a heavy rain.

The Damascus report said Syrian outposts fired on a five-man Israeli patrol approaching one Syrian position and hit "almost all of them."

The U.A.R. spokesman said other Israeli troops then opened fire on the Syrian positions, "possibly to cover the operation of dragging away their killed or wounded patrolmen."

An Israeli spokesman denied the report.

Court to Hear Motion Of Holdup Defendant

LISBON — A motion to quash the indictment of armed robbery against James Maras, 20, of Warren, will be heard Friday at 1 p.m. before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

The defendant's counsel, in the written petition, asks dismissal on the grounds that Maras was deprived of his constitutional rights, denied his right of counsel and denied due process of law. He also claims the indictment was defective in that it fails to state the approximate time and place on the indictment.

Maras was indicted for armed robbery of Barnett's motel near Salem Dec. 11, along with his brother and another man.

MAN IS HIT-RUN VICTIM

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City's 13th hit-run auto fatality since Dec. 28 occurred Wednesday night in Brooklyn. Cecil Moore, 65, a porter, was killed while crossing a street.

MACARTHUR IS RECOVERING

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, suffering from a neurological ailment, had his "most restful and best night" since he entered the hospital, a medical bulletin reported today. The 80-year-old general entered the hospital Jan. 29 for treatment of an enlarged prostate gland.

Church Tables Move To Buy Property

EAST PALESTINE — The congregation of the Centenary Methodist Church "tabled" the resolution that the church purchase the Russell Hughes property as the church parsonage.

A tie vote of 71-71 on the resolution resulted when the congregation held its annual meeting Wednesday night at the church.

The parsonage committee had recommended the purchase of the Hughes property at 575 East St., as an alternative to the erection of a new parsonage on the W. North Ave. lot which the church purchased last October.

The secret ballot vote followed two hours of open discussion on the pros and cons of the purchase, with many objections being voiced to the idea of moving the parsonage away from the church. The present 70-year-old parsonage is adjacent to the church.

The tabling action may enable the resolution to be presented at a later date.

The Rev. Glenn Tennell of Calvary Methodist Church of Steubenville presided at the meeting.

The new pastor, the Rev. Thomas Hammerton, will reside in the present parsonage.

Matter of Fact

In 1653, a local Paris postal system, using stamps, was established by the French king. In 1680 in imitation of this, an enterprising London merchant started a penny post for the city and suburbs, with hundreds of receiving offices, hourly collections, 10 to 12 deliveries a day in business centers and four to eight deliveries in the greater part of London. The government took it over as soon as it began to show a profit and continued the service until 1801.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Quilkin of Homeworth, operator of the McQuilkin Lumber Co.

Earlier entrants in the Democratic commissioners race were: R. Max Gard of near Lisbon, an antique shop proprietor, the incumbent; Samuel J. Crawford of near West Point, a former county judge; Robert Barnett of Beloit RD 2, a Knox Township dairy and turkey farmer; Robert L. Faulkner of Leetonia RD 1; Rudy Wilk of Guilford Lake, former owner of the Riverview Hotel and a member of the Wellsville Civil Service Commission for 28 years; and Daniel A. McKeever, deputy county auditor and former county sanitarian.

Frank Wilson of Wellsville, Democrat, is the hold-over commissioner. Gard is seeking his first full term, as he now is serving an unexpired term to which he was elected in 1958.

For State Representative

No last-minute candidates filed for state representative on the GOP slate, leaving the field at 5.

The candidates are: Rep. Clarence L. (Dutch) Wetzel of Lisbon, seeking a sixth term; Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara of Wellsville, who served 2 consecutive terms in the Assembly from 1951 to 1955; L. J. Vondran of East Liverpool, who retired a year ago after 16 years as county auditor; J. Warren Bettis of Salsville, assistant county prosecuting attorney, and Kenneth E. Bell of Columbiana, operator of a saw mill.

The Democratic field for representative also includes: Benjamin Barrett of Salem, a high school teacher and former football coach; Bernard Freeman of Columbiana, a jeweler and also a deputy in the county auditor's office; Robert Cogan of East Rochester, a construction electrician and a West Township trustee; Samuel Sowards of Lisbon, A State Highway Department employee, and Harold D. Putt of East Liverpool, operator of a furniture store.

Mrs. Morton to Retire

Mrs. Francis W. Morton of Wellsville, veteran county recorder, did not file for renomination, which means she will retire at the end of 1960. A Republican, Mrs. Morton has served three consecutive terms. In all, she has been employed in the Courthouse approximately 30 years.

Republicans have a three-man race for the nomination for her post, while Democrats have a four-way contest.

The GOP slate includes: Richard G. Brian, operator of a men's clothing store in East Liverpool and a former county commissioner; Robert W. Sample Jr., who retired Dec. 31 after 5 terms on East Liverpool Council, and Richard T. (Dick) Mason of Lisbon, Center Township Clerk.

The Democratic field for recorder shows, in addition to Winters: Lawrence A. (Larry) Finlay, operator of a market and former president of the East Liverpool Trades and Labor Council; John E. Graham of Wellsville, a deputy in the County Auditor Kenneth Bell's office, and Donald J. Longshore of Columbiana, an oil salesman.

Van Fossan Unopposed

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, Republican, is unopposed for nomination for a second term.

The 5-way Democratic race for the sheriff nomination shows, in addition to McGurren: Albert E. Kittridge, a former member of the East Liverpool police department for 14 years; John Ansmann of Salem, a meat cutter in a Youngstown market; Lloyd Bentley of Salsville RD, a machinist at Chester, and Merle Hardy of North Georgetown, former Knox Township constable.

Wilson's filing made a two-way race for the GOP nomination for clerk of courts. The other candidate, who filed earlier, is Charles H. Brant, former East Palestine councilman.

Unopposed Candidates

Four Democratic candidates are unopposed for renomination: Probate Judge Louis Tobin of St. Clair Ave.; Court Clerk Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, Treasurer Vincent C. Judge of Lisbon and Dr. William A. Kolozsi of Salem, coroner.

Two other Republican incumbents are unopposed: Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, seeking his second term and County Engineer Charles O. Snyder of Salem.

Democrats have two other unopposed candidates. They are John Ursu of Salem, for county engineer, first member of his party to seek the post for 24 years, and Atty. Herbert E. Arfman of Leetonia, who practices law in Salem, for prosecuting attorney.

On the GOP slate, Mrs. H. Joan Dixon of the Liverpool Rd., near Lisbon, is unopposed for nomination for treasurer. She is a former employee of the treasurer's and auditor's offices in the Courthouse.

The GOP has no candidates for probate judge and coroner.

Delegates

benville, Jefferson County Democratic chairman, for alternates.

There is only one race for election of Democratic and Republican men and women members of the parties' state central committee.

Dale E. Fulton, of Martins Ferry, the incumbent, is opposed by Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, a steel firm employee and councilman for GOP State Central Committee from the 18th Congressional District. Fulton, who was administrative assistant to former Gov. C. William O'Neill, was appointed in early January to succeed Carl Weinman of Steubenville, who became a federal judge for the Southern District of Ohio.

The other incumbent state committeemen and committeewomen are unopposed. They are Gosney, who sits on the Democratic state committee; Mrs. Astry, woman member of the GOP state committee, and Miss Esther Pinsky of Bellaire, woman member of the Democratic state committee.

The national convention delegates and state party committeemen are elected in the area which makes up the 18th Congressional District — Columbiana, Belmont, Carroll, Harrison and Jefferson Counties.

Dern Is Promoted By Telephone Company

Charles E. Dern, Ohio Bell's Youngstown district plant superintendent for the past 8 years, has been named eastern division plant superintendent, succeeding James L. Fay of Akron, who is retiring.

Dern's successor here will be Ernest O. Miller of Mentor, who has been toll superintendent in Cleveland for three years.

TWO GIRLS DROWN

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—The bodies of two 12-year-old girls were pulled from Long Island Sound Wednesday night, six hours after the girls went on a hike to the shore. Police said they believed the girls, Susan Payson and Margaret Lewis, borrowed a rowboat from a beach and drifted into the sound. The boat was not found.

Wife

she didn't know the man's intentions when he left the auto.

After three years in a reformatory, she tried to make a new life by hiding her past. Authorities said she violated her parole by getting married and leaving Illinois. She was traced through fingerprints taken here last New Year's Day after she was involved in an auto accident and held for investigation.

"I loved my husband but I feared to tell him about my past," she said.

"I always brooded over this problem. I turned to religion and told my troubles to my spiritual advisor. He assured me I had paid my debt to society and that there was no need to tell my husband or any of our children as they began to grow up."

"I always wanted to tell," Wednesday she phoned her husband and told him: "Frank, you'd better come home — my past just caught up with me."

She was arraigned later on a fugitive charge. An attorney said he'll ask California Gov. Edmund G. Brown to refuse Illinois' extradition request.

Her husband said he would stand by her.

"My wife obviously has been a good citizen these last 18 years," he said, "or her past would have come to light before this."

"Technically she was in error but morally she has stayed within the boundaries of good citizenship."

New Manager

Of Our

Columbiana Council Studies Gas Rate Hike

COLUMBIANA — Ohio Fuel Gas Co. this week presented Council with a request for an increase in gas rates for local residential consumers, a boost which the utility spokesman said figures out to 5.4 per cent.

The new rate is asked for a four-year contract which would succeed the present pact between the village and Ohio Fuel Gas, which expires March 1. The proposal was presented by Charles Wright, area manager for the utility.

Council will study the rate proposal.

The proposed schedule boosts the minimum charge from $2 to $2.50 a month, and places the lion's share of the increase on the "lower" consumers and, according to Wright, offers the possibility of smaller gas bills for heating customers.

The proposal calls for a charge of 23 cents per hundred cubic feet of gas used for the first 2,000 cubic feet, 7.15 cents per hundred for the next 98,000 cubic feet, and 6.75 cents per hundred for all in excess of 100,000 cubic feet.

Currently the rate is 25.4 cents per hundred for the first 800 cubic feet, 8.4 cents per hundred for the next 400 cubic feet, 7.9 cents per hundred for the next 95,000 cubic feet, 7.4 cents per hundred for the next 100,000 cubic feet, and 6.9 cents per hundred for all over 200,000 cubic feet.

COUNCIL ADOPTED an ordinance accepting the annexation of a 26-acre tract on the northwest side of town. Located off Stanton Drive and known as the West Manor development, the location at present contains eight new homes.

George and Roy Campbell, 31, of Lisbon RD 4, pleaded not guilty after being indicted by the January Grand Jury. Donald George, 13, Leroy's brother, pleaded guilty and asked for probation.

The Campbell trial began immediately following the dismissal of the George jury by Judge Buzzard.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

For more than a month now, the American Communist party has been Khrushchevizing itself—by replacing its intellectual leadership with soft-voiced outwardly good-humored men who are, nonetheless, veterans of the riotous, street-fighting days of the '30s.

Victor Riesel

Their orders are to train cadres to provoke violence, disruption and cost-ly wildcat strikes by local unions—especially in the street and automobile industries. Within the past two weeks this strategy was discussed in the party's national headquarters at 23 W. 26 St., New York City.

The Communists' new and tough national leaders spent hours listening to their chief, Gus Hall. He, himself, is a veteran of years of similar disruption in the Ohio-Illinois-Pennsylvania steel mill strata during the late '30s.

So hard has Hall been working at the revamping job that he virtually collapsed from a flu bug invasion.

HE SPENT most of the latter days of January hidden in the Manhattan apartment of Communist party educational director, Hyman Lumer. But even from his sickbed, Hall pushed through his program, especially the creation of a hard core leadership of the New York State party—one of the organization's last centers of small, but active membership.

At the head of the New York section, Hall placed the veteran "Daily Worker" editor, Clarence Hathaway.

I was knee-high to my Dad when Comrade Hathaway and a husky contingent of Communist gorillas bowed us both over the end of the stage in Madison Square Garden. But we didn't stay down for long.

Hathaway and his muscle men of several thousand Communist nationalists rushed a labor rally being held in the Garden in honor of men jailed, tortured and shot by Adolf Hitler's Austrian allies. Hathaway and his comrades were using direct action tactics. They wanted the platform. They stormed the Garden. Today these same men are again in the Communist party's leadership.

Typical of the returning Communist party veterans who once filled big city streets with tens of thousands of militant demonstrators is Louis Weinstock, formerly a Painters' Union leader. He now not only holds a high party post but is the new sub rosa manager of "The Worker," official voice of the international Communist movement in the United States.

THE RETURN of the old trade union Communist cadres means that the party itself will specialize in labor action.

For example, during their recent meetings, Gus Hall and the others pointed out that the party's objective must be the disruption of any labor-management united front.

They spoke specifically of the type of summit meeting of union and industry chiefs suggested by AFL-CIO President George Meany to President Eisenhower. The Communists discussed the proposals of such men as Vice President Nixon, Labor Secretary Mitchell, labor counselor, Art Goldberg and Steel Union chief, Dave McDonald as well as big steel executives for a series of cooperative meetings of both sides right on the factory level.

The party chiefs said they must convince the Steel Union rank-and-file that the recent strike ended in a bad deal.

So party instructions, carefully spelled out, were to attempt to cause unrest at the bottom. This means finding disgruntled men or placing tiny cells in Steel Union locals to defy the local leaders.

The party's objective is not so much to disrupt steel production as it is to discover where the hold of the Steel Union leaders is weakest—and then follow through with experienced organizing tactics. Thus they hope to build the party membership again.

That's their basic aim. Build the party strength from the 10,000 disciplined members it now has to 50,000 so it can become a loud, if not effective, echo of Khrushchev's policies. Namely to make it appear that America's workers want the nation to abandon its nuclear weapons.

As the French say, the more things change, the more they are the same.

Russia's economy is only half as big as ours but it's growing twice as fast. Newscharts show the position of each country since 1953. The Soviet economy is growing at a rate which is estimated to be 6 per cent, the United States' at 3 per cent. The increase this year will be 12 billion dollars in the Soviet Union, 15 billion in the United States.

Even though we have this diminishing lead, Russian national power—in terms of education and the military—has overtaken ours. One reason advanced is that the poorer U.S.S.R. is simply using far more of its gross national product for weapons, education, foreign aid than the richer United States. We work on consumer goods.

Say 'Yes' With Sweet Heart

Such a time to win favor, St. Valentine's Day! Go into the kitchen, cook, and bake this fanciful heart-shaped dessert for your wooing.

This heart has to be fussed over because it's the puff pastry-type and is made in three layers. It has a sweet filling reminiscent of Armenian and Syrian pastries.

Pastry Sweet Heart
Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup cold hard margarine, 6 tablespoons ice water, Cherry Walnut Filling and Frosting.

Method: Sift together the flour and salt; cut in 2 tablespoons of the margarine until it is in fine particles.

Gradually mix in water thoroughly. Roll out on lightly floured surface or pastry cloth with stockinet covered rolling pin into an 8-inch square about ¼ inch thick.

Dot with remaining margarine cut crosswise into thin slices. Fold in thirds; chill 20 minutes. Roll out to first size and again fold in thirds; chill 20 minutes. Repeat, rolling, folding and chilling 3 more times.

Roll out into a 24 by 10-inch rectangle. Cut into three 10 by 8-inch heart shapes. Place on ungreased cookie sheets.

Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 18 to 20 minutes or until a light golden brown. Add Cherry Walnut Filling and Frosting.

Note: Instead of rolling out pastry and cutting out the 3 hearts at one time, roll out 1-3 of pastry at a time and cut out a heart each time. Make paper heart pattern to use as a guide.

Cherry and Walnut Filling and Frosting

Mix 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar with 2 tablespoons honey, 2½ teaspoons orange juice, 1 cup finely chopped walnuts and ½ cup (about 20) drained chopped maraschino cherries.

Spoon over 2 of the pastry hearts and stack.

Mix 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar with enough orange juice (1 to 1½ teaspoons) to make a thin spread; smooth over top of remaining heart; outline edge with halved cherries (dried on paper toweling); place on top of other hearts.

The "rum ration" usually associated with the British Navy also was part of American naval tradition until the Civil War.

Braised Cauliflower Is Happy Eating

Cauliflower is the aristocrat of the cabbage family. It is also good news to the weight watcher because a whole cup serving contains only 30 calories.

Braised Cauliflower with Link Sausage (Yield: 6 servings)

Brown ¾ pound link sausage (about 12 links) on all sides in a heavy skillet. Remove sausage and drain off fat, reserving 2 tablespoons.

Wash, trim and break a medium head fresh cauliflower (about 1½ pounds) into flowerettes. Cut flowerettes into ¼-inch slices. Place in a saucepan along with the 2 tablespoons sausage fat, ¼ cup water, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper.

Cover and cook until crisp-tender, about 5 minutes. Serve with cooked sausage. Garnish with parsley.

Fresh Cauliflower with Caper-Cheese Sauce (Yield: 6 servings)

Wash one large head fresh cauliflower; remove outside leaves, leaving young tender inside leaves attached. Leave cauliflower whole and place in a spacepan with 1 teaspoon salt and 1 inch boiling water. Cook, uncovered, 5 minutes.

Cover and continue cooking about 20 minutes or until cauliflower is tender, turning the head once. In the meantime, melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine in a saucepan and blend in 3 tablespoons flour, mixing until smooth.

Drain cooking water from cauliflower into a measuring cup, add enough milk to make 1½ cups and gradually mix with the butter and flour mixture. Stir in 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon powdered dry mustard, and ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper. Cook until of medium thickness, stirring constantly.

Add 1 cup shredded sharp American cheese and 2 to 3 tablespoons capers. Place cauliflower in a serving dish, cover with sauce. Serve hot.

Dilled Noodles

Ingredients: 1 package (6 ounces) bite-size shredded rice biscuits, ½ cup butter, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons dill weed, 1 container (1½ ounces) grated Parmesan and Romano cheese.

Method: Divide the cereal (there should be 6 cups) into 2 lots; discard any cereal shreds at bottom of package.

Melt ¼ cup of the butter in a 10-inch heavy skillet over low heat; add one lot (3 cups) of the cereal; toast, turning often with 2 forks until some of the biscuits are lightly browned.

Mix ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dill weed with half (about 3 tablespoons) of the cheese. Turn off heat under cereal; at once sprinkle with cheese mixture as you turn it with a fork or spoon.

Prepare remaining cereal the same way with the remaining ingredients. Store leftover nibbles in tightly-covered container.

Make Breakfast A Pleasant Meal

A little more time, a little more planning, could turn breakfast into the most pleasant meal of the day, according to Alan R. Jackson, enjoyer of good living, and author of the attractive new "The Breakfast Cookbook" (150 pages, engagingly illustrated).

Pea and Chipped Beef Soup (For 1 or 2)

One can green pea soup, 2-3 can water, ¼ cup chipped beef, 1 or 2 eggs.

Simmer soup and water. Add chipped beef and mix thoroughly. Add egg, poach until firm. Serve at once.

Eggs and Sour Cream

One-half cup bread crumbs, (or a good packaged poultry stuffing), ½ cup sour cream, 4 eggs.

Butter 4 custard cups and pour about 1 tablespoon of melted butter in bottom of each cup. Put a scant teaspoon of bread crumbs into bottom of cup and break whole egg onto crumbs. Top egg with ¼ teaspoon of crumbs.

Bake in oven at 340 degrees F. for about 10 minutes or until eggs are set. Teaspoon of sour cream on each egg.

Sardines, Cheese

Ingredients: 1 can (3½ ounces) brisling sardines, mayonnaise-type salad dressing, lemon juice, sliced bread, coarsely grated cheddar cheese.

Method: Drain sardines; mash with salad dressing and lemon juice to taste.

Quakers Expect Little Opposition From Potters Friday

Invaders Have 4-6 Record

Cunningham Foes' Top Offensive Threat

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Only Kenny Cunningham and a keen intra-county rivalry figure to keep the East Liverpool Potters in the game here Friday night against Ohio's third ranked high school cage power, the Salem Quakers.

The basketball coming out of Memorial Auditorium in East Liverpool for the past two years hasn't been up to standards of the once proud Potter cage squads which used to give the Quakers such a rough time on the hardwoods.

In fact, the two-game winning streak the Potters are now on marks the first time in the last two years that East Liverpool managed to put together two straight wins.

LAST YEAR East Liverpool won only two of 18 games. This year the Potters have won four and lost six. All six of East Liverpool's defeats have come on the road.

Victories at home were recorded over Alliance 59-52, Toronto 56-51, Steubenville Central Catholic 71-38 and New Philadelphia 67-60. The latter two victories are responsible for East Liverpool's current winning streak.

Defeats have come at the hands of Wellsville 53-38, Warren 53-46, Canton McKinley 56-44, Midland, Pa., 79-52, Youngstown South 70-56 and Marietta 80-56.

Three of the teams which conquered East Liverpool are among Salem's victims this season. The Quakers dumped Warren 65-59, Wellsville 62-58 and Youngstown South 90-59.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S new coach this season, Jim Harris, was a star on the 1945-46 Potter cage squad which gained the state semifinals at Toledo.

Coach Harris has five returning lettermen on his squad, four of whom will probably be in the starting lineup against the Quakers on Friday. They are Kenny Cunningham, 5-11; Bob Mackall, 5-11; Ray Bigelow, 6-6; and Ken Miller, 6-0. The fifth letterwinner and some-times starter is Craig Burdick, 6-3.

Cunningham and Miller are juniors. The other three are seniors. East Liverpool's fifth starter Friday will probably be Phil Chan, 5-11 senior, who is a set shot artist.

MACKALL, the Potters' talented football quarterback, sprained an ankle in Friday's game against New Philadelphia. Coach Harris lists him as a doubtful starter against Salem but says he probably will see some action. If Mackall is not ready to go by Friday, he will be replaced by Burdick, the 6-3 senior.

Mackall has been averaging about nine points per game. He plays the pivot on East Liverpool's deliberate style offense and is considered a good passer. Mackall rebounds well for his size. He possesses blazing speed but has trouble controlling it at times.

East Liverpool's number one offensive threat is Cunningham. The junior led the team in scoring last season with 303 points, and he has more than twice as many points this season as anyone else on the squad.

CUNNINGHAM HAS tallied 187 markers in 10 games for an 18.7 average. He has scored over 20 points in each of his last five contests.

Cunningham has a terrific shooting eye and likes to jump shoot. The Potters do a lot of picking for their ace to break him open for a shot.

If Cunningham has a weakness, it is on defense.

East Liverpool's number two scorer is Bigelow who is averaging about nine points per game. Chan has been averaging seven points per contest and Miller, six.

The Potters know that Salem likes to fast break. They probably will slow their deliberate type of offense down even more on Friday night and try to take on sure shots.

TWO SALEM regulars, Dan Krichbaum and Eric Theiss, and Coach John Cabas all missed school and basketball practice yesterday because of illness. All three are expected to be ready to go by Friday.

Dave Hunter, Jim Lehwald, Don Davidson, Jim Solmen and Ed Yates were working as the first unit at practice last night with Assistant Coach Karl Zellers.

Officials for the game here on Friday will be George Ellis and Nick Frascella, both of Akron.

The reserve game is slated to get underway at 7:30 p.m. and the varsity tilt at about 9. East Liverpool's Jayvees have a 3-5 record. Salem's reserves have won all but one of 12 contests.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1960

BY THAT MUCH — John Thomas counts once more for reporters his latest feat—7 feet, 1½ inches in the Millrose Games high jump event in New York City. Though not official, because International Amateur Athletic Federation does not recognize indoor marks, it bests the Boston University star's own official mark of 7 feet, 1¼ inches.

Athletics Boost Pitching Staff; Some Needs Still Exist

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Since I am new to the league, it is going to be somewhat difficult for me to evaluate my own players on the Kansas City club let alone those of the other clubs.

Three Mt. Union Players Sidelined By Low Grades

ALLIANCE — The Purple Raiders of Mount Union College will be without the services of three basketball players for the remainder of the season due to scholastic ineligibility.

Ray Peoples, Tim Williams, and Dave Fell failed to clear the grade hurdles and thus will have to devote full time to studies.

Peoples, a 5'8 guard from Kent, proved in his sophomore year that he was not only capable of handling a starting position, but would soon develop into one of the finest ball-handling guards in the Ohio Conference. The sophomore letter winner was tabbed by Coach Wayne Ashbaugh as one of the best defensive men on the squad.

Williams, a 5'9 forward from Pittsburgh, was considered to be the number six man on the squad and figured heavily in the bench strength. Now in his junior year, the former junior varsity star and football fullback figures greatly in the future plans for the Raiders.

Fell, 6'0 freshman from Weirton, W. Va., was one of the most promising of the freshman crop.

The scrappy guard was leading the J.V. scoring and also figured in the future plans of Coach Ashbaugh.

With the loss of these three players it will probably mean that sophomore Bud Cross or freshman Roger Schnoke will be moved into the starting unit. The Raiders opened a final seven game stand against Ohio Conference teams on Wednesday night by bowing to Muskingum 81-73.

New Names Make MAC Scoring List

BOWLING GREEN — There are some new names among the Mid-American Conference's all-games statistics leaders this week.

Of course, Jimmy Darrow, the sharpshooting Bowling Green guard remained in the driver's seat in scoring with his fourth place national standing of 28.3, which leads Marshall's John Milhoan by 6 points.

But in the field goal percentage rankings Earl McNeal, Western Michigan sophomore, has moved fast over the past two weeks and leads with a .529 mark. Another fast mover here of late, Dave Zeller of Miami, is only a fraction behind at .523. John Papcun of Toledo follows at .500 with Darrow next at .496.

Jimmy Routsen, Bowling Green's big forward, tops the free throw shooters. With national ranking at the line, Routsen has a .854 mark with Milhoan in runnerup spot at .842. Over two seasons of play, Routsen has missed only 11 charity tries in 81 chances.

Ohio's big Howard Joliff, also a national leader, is still dominating the boards. He has retrieved better than 18 per cent while his closest competitor is Bob Burgess of Marshall who has better than 15 per cent recoveries.

Toledo, Dayton Win Contests

Kent State Rolls; Mount Union Bows

By The Associated Press

Toledo and Dayton continue to push toward the top ten in The Associated Press' national collegiate basketball rankings.

The Rockets and Flyers, who climbed to 12th and 13th in the latest poll, added to lengthy winning streaks Wednesday night in their bids to join Cincinnati and Ohio State among the elite. If they make it, Ohio's claim as a basketball hotbed will be unchallenged.

Toledo cuffed Western Michigan 67-48 and Dayton beat Miami of Ohio 72-60, both on home hardwood. Independent Dayton, driving toward a National Invitational Tournament berth, upped its record to 16-3. Toledo, now 14-2, moved into a tie for first place with Ohio University at 6-1 in its quest for championship.

Garry Roggenbuck scored 23 points and dominated rebounding to pace Dayton, which pulled away from Miami (4-12) after leading only 32-30 at halftime. Toledo, which has been rather anonymous individually, depending on all-around balance, was led in scoring against the Broncos by George Patterson, who meshed 22 in the easy victory.

Elsewhere in Ohio, Xavier boosted its record to 12-6 by topping Portland (Ore.) U. 52-45. Kent State trimmed Northern Michigan 85-71; Capital took Ohio Wesleyan 62-57 and Muskingum huddled Mount Union 81-73 in Ohio Conference tiffs; Defiance rolled to its 14th victory in 15 games, 100-85 over Adrian (Mich.), and Ohio Northern nosed out Ashland in a wild-scoring triple overtime contest, 123-119.

Jim Enright's 20 points led Xavier as both the Musketeers and Portland experienced a cold shooting night. Ollie Wallace bucketed 22 to spark Kent.

Capital (6-5 in the O.C.) and Ohio Wesleyan (4-6 O.C.) went almost six minutes without a field goal before getting down to brass tacks. Bob Holliday caged 19 points for the winners but the Dishops' Jerry Vaughn got 24.

Ron Holtrey went on a 44-point spurge for Ohio Northern, getting 15 of them in the overtime. I was 97-97 in regulation time. Ashland led despite 25 points by Larry Augler and 24 apiece by his teammates John Runyon and Dean Maddock.

Frosh Bow To Alliance By 42-40

A fourth-period rally fell two points short as Salem's freshman basketball squad dropped a 42-40 decision to Alliance Stanton on Wednesday in the Salem Junior High gym.

Salem trailed 29-22 going into the final quarter. Coach Sam Priddy's quintet finally caught Stanton late in the period when Dave Capel's jump shot tied the score at 38-all.

Alliance came back with two quick baskets by Bryant and Serjoc to move on to 42-38.

SALEM'S Dick Ehrhart was fouled on a lay up with 30 seconds remaining in the game. Ehrhart sank both free throws to move the Quaker freshmen to within two points, 42-40. Salem had the ball when time ran out but couldn't work it in for a good shot.

Ehrhart collected eight points to pace the Quakers. Bryant of Stanton led all scorers with 16 points.

Alliance outshot Salem from the field 37 per cent to 20 per cent. Salem converted 55 per cent of its fouls while Alliance made only 32 per cent of its charity tosses.

SALEM PLAYED without the services of its ace rebounder, Nate Cope. Bob King did a fine job on the boards for the Quaker freshmen, pulling down nine defensive and seven offensive rebounds.

The defeat for Salem was its third in the last four games. Its season record is nine wins and five defeats.

Salem will host Alliance State. Street at 4 p.m. today at the Junior High gym.

Sinks 33 as Herron's Rips Shaffer's

New City Record Set by Nicholson

Dean Nicholson set a new season scoring record by tossing in 33 points in leading Herron Transfer to a 64-47 victory over Shaffer Ford in a city league basketball game Wednesday night at the Memorial Building.

In other Class A games played last night, Foreman's Window Cleaning snapped a 12-game losing streak by defeating Birkhimer's Isals 69-59; Industrial Mining trampled Salem Stamping 75-67; and S & B Greenhouses walked over Mesmer Coal 59-34.

Nicholson's record-breaking 33-point performance came on 14 fielders and five fouls. The previous season high of 30 points was set by Red Stanley of Farmers Bank against Salem Stamping.

THE BIG CENTER for the Trunkers tallied six points in the first quarter, 13 in the second, five in the third and nine in the final period.

Jack Brudery cashed in 17 points to pace Shaffer Ford. The victory for league-leading Herron Transfer was its sixth straight in the second round and its 15th straight

Baseball Writers Again Fail to Pick Honoree

Hall of Fame Selection Procedure Faces Review

BOSTON (AP) — The selection procedure for the Hall of Fame appeared headed for critical review today. Reason: The Baseball Writers Assn. of America, scattering votes among 129 players, failed to add any names to the immortal scrolls for the second straight time.

As top man in losing field, former Cincinnati and New York Giants outfielder Edd Roush mustered 54.3 per cent of the record 269 ballots cast.

Under present rules, 75 per cent is necessary for election which this year would have been 202.

Close behind the 146 Roush received were 143 for outfielder Edgar (Sam) Rice and 142 for southpaw pitcher Eppa Rixey. They were the only candidates to poll more than 100.

At present, 10-year members of the BBWA vote biennially — the even years — for players who stopped playing not more than 50 years ago, and for players who stopped less than five years from the time of balloting.

On the odd years a special committee set up by the heads of baseball is empowered to select players from back beyond the 30-year limit.

Two years ago when the writers failed to elect a player from among 145 candidates on 266 ballots, Commissioner Ford Frick said he was pleased by the outcome.

But Wednesday, Frick and Paul Kerr, secretary of the board of directors of the Hall of Fame, expressed disappointment at the outcome.

Hy Hurwitz, secretary-treasurer of the writers, who conducted the vote tabulation and announced

North Carolina Whips Maryland

Southern Methodist, Providence Winners

By The Associated Press

Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels have that championship look again as they head into the stretch run in Atlantic Coast Conference basketball.

Playing their first game since the break for mid-term exams Jan. 16 and fortified by the return of Brooklyn's Doug Moe, the Tar Heels whipped Maryland Wednesday night 75-66 to retain their hold on the ACC lead.

It was North Carolina's first victory at Maryland in three years.

In dropping Maryland (4-2) to fourth place behind Wake Forest (7-2) and Duke (5-2), North Carolina ran its winning streak to five and its overall record to 10-3.

Providence (12-3) won its ninth straight, 65-53 over Brown, and Dayton (16-3) ran its streak to eight by whipping Miami of Ohio 72-60.

Southern Methodist pulled into a tie with idle Texas A&M for the Southwest Conference lead by clobbering TCU 79-73 and 11th-rated Miami of Florida made it 18-2 of Brooklyn's Doug Moe, the Tar Heels whipped Maryland Wednesday night 75-66 to retain their hold on the ACC lead.

the nation, tied Ohio U. for the Mid-American conference lead by cruising past Western Michigan 67-48.

The service academies turned in a sweep, with Air Force whipping Wyoming in overtime 59-54, Army nipping Albright 66-65 and Navy rallying for an 84-72 decision over Temple.

In the first racially-mixed sports event in Louisiana in four years, Loyola of New Orleans beat Chicago Loyola 66-64. Clarence Red and Bud Dawson of Chicago Loyola were the first Negro athletes to appear against whites in Louisiana since fullback Bobby Grier played for Pitt in the 1956 Sugar Bowl football game.

TWO OHIOANS LOSE OUT

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The first match round of the Women's Golf Championship of Palm Beach saw two of the three Ohioans entered lose out Wednesday.

Joanne Goodwin, Haverhill, Mass., defeated Mrs. Fran Emerson, Dayton, 2 and 1, and Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, Md., eliminated Mrs. J. W. Labisky, Columbus, 5 and 4.

Mrs. Barbara Fitten, Hamilton, Ohio, survived. She defeated Mrs. Virginia Kops, Purchase, N. Y., 4 and 2.

Columbiana, Sebring Dropped From Salem Cage Schedule

Officials at Columbiana and Sebring High Schools have confirmed that the Salem Quakers will not appear on their 1960-61 basketball schedules.

Columbiana Coach Rich Berryman said Salem offered them half the gate, but the Clippers preferred to drop the Quakers rather than meet them on Salem's home floor every year.

"After the trouble with (Don) Davidson last year, our fans didn't care much about playing in Salem," Berryman commented.

DAVIDSON WAS Columbi a n a's leading scorer last year as a sophomore. He moved to Salem during the summer.

Columbiana has already signed a contract with Newton Falls to take Salem's place on their 1960-61 schedule. All other Clipper opponents will remain the same as this season, Berryman said.

Both Sebring and Salem seem satisfied that discontinuing their long rivalry will be best for both schools. The Quakers are attempting to improve their schedule next season by lining up several tougher teams. Coach John Cabas says that Salem is willing to take on any school in the state.

Methodists, Memorial Win Class D Games

Methodist defeated Emmanuel Lutheran 38-17 and Memorial Building trounced Christian 35-12 in Class D Church League basketball games played Wednesday at the Memorial Building.

Methodist had Emmanuel Lutheran shut out 8-0 at halftime and moved on top 23-10 at the three-quarter mark.

The Memorials also had an easy time with Christian, holding quarter leads of 11-7, 21-9 and 27-12.

HIRED BY OILERS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mac Speedie, former star end for the Cleveland Browns, has been added to the coaching staff of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League.

Speedie, the fourth assistant to be picked by Coach Lou Rymkus, is to come here next week from Encino, Calif., where he has been in the investments business since leaving the Browns in 1956.

Canned Chicken Gravy Is Boon

Canned chicken gravy, a brand-new product now on your grocer's shelf, is delicious as a pour-on over many favorite poultry dishes, also over potatoes, rice, noodles, grits, paper-thin pancakes, etc.

Good, too, as an ingredient in skillet and casserole dishes. It combines with leftover chicken or turkey with noodles or rice; provides gravy for frozen poultry dishes and a creamy tasty topping for croquettes.

Chicken Kiev, a super de luxe gourmet dish, becomes possible in an easy home version with this canned chicken gravy. Perfect for that special Sunday dinner.

Chicken Kiev (Makes 4 servings) Eight carrot sticks, 8 celery sticks, 4 whole chicken breasts, ½ cup butter, 1 egg, slightly beaten;

In covered saucepan, cook carrot and celery sticks until just tender. Meanwhile, remove skin from chicken breasts; bone. Cut breasts in half lengthwise; pound with flat side of cleaver until thin.

Roll butter into 8 balls; place a ball on one end of each piece of chicken; roll end up to completely cover butter. Lay a carrot and celery stick in center of chicken; roll around; fasten with a thread or toothpicks.

Dip rolled breasts in egg; roll in bread crumbs. Fry in 3 inches of hot shortening (375 degrees F.) for 5 minutes. In saucepan, heat chicken gravy; serve over chicken.

Brunch Is Easy Entertaining

If planning all the courses of a party lunch or supper sometimes gives you a slight case of jitters, try asking friends to a noontime Sunday brunch.

Set the table Saturday night. Fruit juice and dry cereal can be on hand ready to serve. For the main course it's easy to cook small link sausages just before the guests arrive and keep them warm in their heavy skillet (with fat poured off) over very low heat.

Eggs can be scrambled at the last minute; if you have an electric skillet do it at the table. Your husband or one of the guests will willingly take over the toaster and pour the coffee.

We find that brunch guests usually like a bonus of coffee-cake to nibble with those last cups of coffee. This you can make your main chore of the morning, and for something new and delicious you might like to try this coffee-time gingerbread.

Coffee-Time Gingerbread
Ingredients: ½ cup apricot preserves, ½ cup broken walnut meats, ½ cup ready-to-eat bran, ½ cup water, 1 cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon of salt, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 3 tablespoons shortening, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, ½ cup molasses.

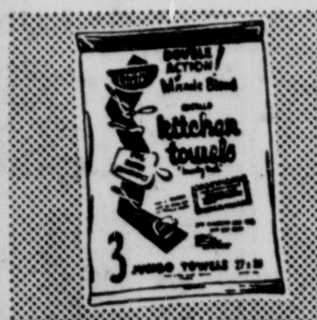

Method: Spread apricot preserves evenly in bottom of a well-greased 8 by 1½ inch round cake pan.

Sprinkle with walnut meats. Mix bran and water; let stand about 5 minutes. Sift together the flour, baking powder, soda, salt, ginger and cinnamon.

Blend the shortening and sugar; beat in egg well. Stir in molasses and bran mixture. Add sifted dry ingredients, stirring only until mixed. Spread in prepared pan.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 40 minutes, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove from the oven and let stand about 5 minutes.

Turn upside down on serving plate and let stand a few minutes longer before removing pan.

Budget Dishes Are Simple, Sturdy

Large - appetite families want sturdy dishes. Busy housewives want dinner recipes that can be prepared easily and use leftovers or budget meats. Therefore, these two recipes will be generally welcome:

Broccoli and Ham Casserole (Yield: 6 servings)

Wash 1 bunch (1½ pounds) fresh broccoli, split big stems to cook uniformly, and place in a saucepan with 1-inch boiling water and ½ teaspoon salt.

Bring to boiling point without cover and cook 3 minutes. Cover and boil 20 minutes or only until crisp-tender. Drain, if necessary. Place in a 6-cup casserole with alternate layers of ½ cup chopped leftover cooked ham or luncheon meat and 1½ cups medium white sauce, seasoned to taste with salt.

Combine ½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese with ¾ cup soft bread crumbs and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted, and sprinkle over the top.

Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 minutes or until brown.

Fresh Kale with Frankfurters (Yield: 6 servings)

Wash 3 pounds fresh kale. Remove, discard coarse stems. Cut into 2 to 3-inch lengths. Place in saucepan with ¼ cup boiling water, 2 bouillon cubes, ¾ cup chopped onion, 1½ teaspoons salt and 1½ teaspoons crumbled whole tarragon leaves.

Arrange 6 frankfurters over the top. Cover and cook 15 minutes or only until tender. Remove frankfurters and add ¼ teaspoon of ground black pepper, ½ teaspoon sugar and 1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice to kale. Toss lightly. Turn into a serving dish over which arrange frankfurters. Serve hot as the main dish.

Chicken Grill

Ingredients: 1 chicken breast (cut in half), 2 chicken second joints, 1 tablespoon flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, pepper, paprika, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 medium-sized tomatoes, 4 small link sausage.

Method: Remove skin from the chicken breast and joints. With a heavy cleaver flatten chicken. Mix flour and salt with a dash of pepper and paprika; rub into chicken. Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet; add chicken and brown lightly on both sides; cook until tender.

Cut a slice off both ends of tomato; halve; sprinkle lightly with salt; add to skillet to heat. Meanwhile heat sausage links in another skillet in a little water; pour off water; brown links.

Date Muffins

Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 20 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted flour, 2½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats, 1 egg (slightly beaten), 3 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), ½ cup finely mashed bananas, ½ cup slivered pitted fresh dates, ½ cup milk.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and sugar; stir in rolled oats.

Add egg, butter, bananas, dates and milk; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill but-wells each two-thirds full.

Try Delicately Tinted Hearts

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Hearts and pink rosebuds — that's for Valentine's Day, isn't it? To carry out the cupid theme, try these delicately tinted hearts with filling and Petits Fours frosting.

Valentine Hearts
(Makes 24 medium-size hearts)
Three quarters cup sifted cake flour, ¼ cup sugar, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup corn oil, 3 egg yolks, 6 tablespoons water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, few drops red food coloring, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, 3 egg whites, 1 recipe Petits Fours frosting.

Mix and sift cake flour, sugar, baking powder and salt in a deep bowl. Make a well and add in order corn oil, egg yolks, water and vanilla.

Beat with a spoon until smooth. Add food color and mix in, adding enough to make the batter slightly darker than desired when finished. Add cream of tartar to egg whites. Beat until egg whites form very stiff peaks.

Gently fold first mixture into egg whites until well blended. Fold, do not stir. Lightly grease a 10½x15½x1-inch jelly roll pan and line with waxed paper, then grease paper lightly.

Pour batter into pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.)

for 12 minutes or until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Turn out on a towel covered with confectioners' sugar.

Peel off waxed paper. While cake is still warm, but not hot, cut out heart shapes using cookie cutter.

Cover pieces with Petits Fours frosting after filling with softened cream cheese and jelly.

Petits Fours Frosting
One cup sugar, 1-3 cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup water, ½ teaspoon vanilla or almond extract, 1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar.

Combine sugar, corn syrup and water in a medium saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved and mixture starts to boil.

Cook without stirring to 226 degrees F. Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.). Stir in vanilla. Blend in confectioners' sugar (about 1½ cups). Frosting should be of good pouring consistency. Pour over the heart-shaped pieces of cake on a wire rack over waxed paper.

Frost sides, if desired. Frosting that runs off onto paper may be scraped back into pan, heated and reused. Tint desired color. Decorate with candy or frosting flowers.

Italian Chicken
Ingredients: 1 broiler - fryer (about 3 pounds ready - to - cook weight), ¼ cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup olive oil, 1 garlic clove (crushed), 1 can (1 pound) tomatoes, 1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste, 1 bay leaf, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 can (8 ounces) small white boiled onions, ½ green pepper (chopped).

Method: Have chicken cut in 10 pieces; wash and dry. (Neck, giblets and wing tips may be saved for stock for another time).

Mix together flour, 1 teaspoon of the salt and pepper; roll chicken in mixture. Heat oil in Dutch oven; add chicken and brown. Remove chicken.

Turn garlic tomatoes, tomato paste, bay leaf, sugar and remaining 1 teaspoon salt into Dutch oven; stir and heat.

Place browned chicken over the sauce. Simmer, covered, 45 to 60 minutes or until chicken is tender.

About 15 minutes before chicken is ready, drain onions and add with green pepper. Makes 4 servings with rich sauce to go with spaghetti.

Beet Relish
Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound) of small whole beets, 2-3 cup sour cream or substitute, 1 teaspoon of sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons fresh bottled horseradish (drained in a small sieve).

Method: Drain beets, slice thin and cut into thin strips. Mix sour cream or substitute with sugar, salt and horseradish. Fold in the beets. Cover and chill until serving time. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For sour-cream substitute put 8 ounces of cream style cottage cheese (small or large curd), 1-3 cup milk and 1 tablespoon lemon juice (fresh or bottled) into an electric blender; blend until smooth, scraping down once with motor turned off.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what to do about my wife. We've been married two years and a good share of our joint earnings have gone to pay doctor bills. My wife has a skin condition on her hands and arms which keeps her in constant agony. It started during our engagement. It responds to a new drug or a special lamp treatment for awhile, then it gets bad again. She works in a library and wears elbow-length cotton gloves.

Last week my wife went to the top specialist in a large city. He told her the trouble was "nerves" and that unless she gets to the root of her problem she might have the eruption indefinitely.

This news made her so physically ill she had to go to bed. She claims the doctor is "crazy" and that an allergy is the real problem. She made me promise not to tell my mother or sister, both of whom she hates.

Why is she reacting so violently to the diagnosis and what can I do about it? — UNHAPPY HUSBAND.

stantly has made her nervous. Our grocery bill has doubled and the landlady raised our rent when Linda and her child moved in. I hinted to Linda that things were tight but she has yet to pay a milk bill or buy a loaf of bread for the house. What can I do?—PAST 60.

Dear Past 60: You can stop hinting and tell Linda she has 30 days to find a place of her own. Offer to help her pack and make it clear you mean business.

Objects To Affection

Dear Ann: Maybe I'm getting old and crotchety but I'm getting darned sick and tired of having everyone who passes my desk in this office tap me on the head, snap my suspenders, pull my hair or tweek my cheek.

My desk is on the aisle. I'm a sitting duck for every noodnik who passes. You seem to have a solution for everything from box-elder bugs to buggy elders who should be in their boxes. How about some help for me?—END MAN.

Dear End Man: I hope your letter was written in a fit of pique and that you don't honestly resent these friendly taps. If the pedestrians who pass your desk didn't like you they'd ignore you. Psychologists tell us that touching, tweeking and tapping is a sign of affection.

Dear Ann Landers: As you can see, this letter is being written in Japan. My mother sends me every one of your columns.

I'm 22 and have been in the Army for 20 months. When I left for overseas my girl promised to wait for me. We were not officially engaged but we had an understanding. Emily writes three times a week and her letters are wonderful. In every letter she says she loves me and can't wait till we're together again.

Last week my kid brother wrote that Emily is pregnant. His guess is she'll have the baby next month. He said he debated for weeks before he decided to tell me.

It will be April before I'll be able to get home and learn the whole story. I think I still love her and want her for my wife. Please help a—MIXED-UP GI.

Dear Mixed-Up: What do you want—a blueprint? You know the story. The only thing you need to be filled in on is the cast of characters.

A girl who would neglect to mention a detail like a baby on the way sounds like pretty poor wife material. Take your time, soldier, and think over carefully the hazards if you marry a girl with this kind of history.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Deviled Eggs

Six hard-cooked eggs, 2 teaspoons lemon juice or vinegar, ¼ teaspoon prepared salad mustard, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon of ground pepper, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing.

Cut eggs in half. Remove yolks and press through sieve. Combine yolks with remaining ingredients; beat until smooth. If desired, add more seasoning and salad dressing. Refill whites.

Fix Chowder Without Fuss

A new type of packaged sliced potatoes is now available nationally in grocery stores.

They are convenient to store, take little space on the pantry shelf, and keep indefinitely. They are suitable for any one of many dishes — for frying, creaming, for salads, casserole dishes, stews, soups and chowders.

New England-type clam chowder is one example. This chowder, served in generous-size bowls, may be used as the main course at lunch or supper for a hungry family — or in cups as a first course for dinner.

Menu suggestion for clam chowder: Luncheon: Large bowls of New-Way Clam Chowder, mixed green salad, toasted rolls with butter, fresh fruit, tea, milk for children. Dinner: New-Way Clam Chowder in cups, baked or broiled fish, broiled tomatoes, hearts of lettuce with Roquefort cheese dressing, baked apples and coffee.

ON HONOR ROSTER

Donald Keener, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Keener, 1721 Merle Road, has been named an honor student at the end of the first semester of study at Peekskill Military Academy, Peekskill, N.Y.

Italian physicist Torricelli (1608-47) discovered the principle of the barometer to forecast weather.

and ½ cup light cream). Sauté onion in butter until transparent. Drain clams, reserving liquor. Add water to liquor to make 1 2-3 cups. Add clam liquor and water, sliced potatoes (right from the package), celery, salt and pepper to sautéed onions. Cover and bring to a boil. Then boil until potatoes and celery are tender — about 15 minutes. Add milk and clams. Heat until hot but not boiling, stirring occasionally.

SPECIAL NOTICE

MEN ONLY Say fella, do you look like a sack of sand? Has your chest slipped below your belt? Do you look like you just stole a watermelon?

Now you can still stop the goodie away. Quilt the air and lose that pot at the same time.

The answer is a "Nuback" Spot Reducer. The law will not let me guarantee that you will lose 2 inches from your waist without losing a single pound in 30 days.

But, if you don't like the results you just don't pay.

Health Displays, Demonstrations Planned

Jaycees Launch Heart Fund Drive

HEART CAMPAIGN STARTS — Posters to be displayed on behalf of the Heart Fund drive are examined by members of the campaign committee and Mayor Dean Crammer. The Mayor signed a proclamation naming February "Heart Month in Salem." Members of the Salem Area Heart Association (l. to r.) are Ford Joseph Jr., Dr. Ralph Vance, and Fred Koenreich Jr. The Association seeks to raise $3,000 for heart research.

This year's Heart Month promotion, under the sponsorship of the Jaycees, will be marked by two firsts in the local drive for funds. In order to bolster contributions and focus more attention on the need for heart health, the Columbiana County Heart Fund Council will have a display of heart-testing equipment set up in downtown stores and will give demonstrations of the equipment. Announcement of the display and demonstration was made jointly by Fred Koenreich Jr., chairman of the local drive, and Ford Joseph Jr., Columbiana County Heart Fund chairman. Dr. Ralph Vance, consulting cardiologist for the Salem Area Heart Association, said the equipment will include several types of electrocardiograms, and a ballistocardiogram, phonocardiogram, vis-

Five Columbiana County subdivisions will vote on a total of 8 proposed tax levies at the May 3 primaries, according to proposals filed with the County Election Board.

Three proposed levies certified Monday night by the East Liverpool Board of Education include a new 1-mill levy, a new 3-mill levy and renewal of an 8-mill levy. All would be in effect 5 years.

Other positions are: Elkrun Township, renewal of a half-mill fire protection levy for 5 years. Center Township, renewal of a four-tenth mill fire protection levy for 5 years.

Hanover Township, a 1-mill road maintenance levy and a 1-mill fire protection levy, both renewals for 5 years.

RUSSIA WILL BEAT US IN 1960 OLYMPICS, SAYS FORMER CHAMP

Not content with their increasing conquests in the international space program, the Russians are now trying to prove their athletic superiority in the Olympic sport's arena. And according to Bob Richards, Olympic pole vault champion in 1952 and 1956, the Russians are going to lick us decisively in this year's international competition.

Why this situation exists and how it can be prevented in the future is frankly discussed by Richards in his provocative article, "Can't We Even Win the Olympics?" Be sure to read it in Family Weekly, distributed with your Sat., Feb. 6th edition of THE SALEM NEWS.

In the same issue is the fascinating feature, "How Bad Is a Bad Child?" in which a noted child-guidance authority tells parents that aggressive tendencies in children should not cause undue alarm, since such impulses are usually natural phases of child development.

Regular Family Weekly features include some appetizing and decorative dishes for your Valentine's Day menu, riddles and games for the children in the Junior Treasure Chest, and the jokes and cartoons of Quips and Quotes.

EXTENDING THE UMBRELLA — The Air Force has added four more states to its Atlas missile base plan—New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and New York (see Newsmap above). Seven other bases were previously announced. The new bases, costing 47 million dollars each, will provide 36 more launching sites for the 5,000-mile-plus intercontinental ballistic missile. The 11 bases will be home for 13 missile squadrons (three of them at Warren AFB), with each squadron manned by 700 members of the Strategic Air Command.

Pre-Natal Course To Begin March 2

LISBON — The Columbiana County Health Department announced today a new series of pre-natal classes will start Wednesday, March 2, at 1:30 p.m. in the department's offices on the third floor of the Courthouse.

This will be the fourth course of instruction for expectant mothers offered by the health department. Mrs. Violet Peterson, staff nurse, will be the instructor, and personnel of county hospitals will discuss hospital routine.

The course will consist of six weekly classes and will cover information relating to pregnancy, the hospital experience, labor and delivery, and the care of the baby. Demonstrations of the baby's bath and formula preparation will be included. Because of the limited facilities, the enrollment will be limited to 15 members.

Those desiring to attend the classes are requested to register promptly by calling the Health Department office (HA 4-7221).

The Welcome Wagon Club of Lisbon will again act as hostesses and will serve refreshments. The Lisbon club will make a small assessment to help defray the cost of refreshments. There is no other charge.
